If you are like the millions of men and women interested in CoolSculpting, you want to know what areas can be treated. CoolSculpting treatment areas include problem spots like the abdomen, love handles, inner and outer thighs, neck fat, armpit fat, back fat, and more. Always Beautiful is proud to offer CoolSculpting treatments for patients struggling with stubborn fat bulges.

POPULAR COOLSCULPTING TREATMENT AREAS

Many of the most problematic areas of the body can be CoolSculpted. FDA approved treatment areas include the abdomen, submental region, flanks, thighs, upper arms, armpits, back, and more.

WHY MANY CHOOSE COOLSCULPTING

- Reduces stubborn fat without surgery or downtime
- #1 non-invasive fat reduction treatment
- FDA cleared and scientifically proven
- Long-lasting, natural results
- Scalp effective curves
- Convenient, 35-minute treatments

COOLSCULPTING BELLY FAT

For most, the belly is one of the most problematic zones. The abdomen tends to hold on to stubborn fat cells, regardless of exercise or diet. For those people struggling with stubborn bulges, CoolSculpting can freeze the belly fat cells to death to reveal a firm, smooth midsection. Treating your abdomen will require one large applicator and/or two smaller, depending on your specific body. When you schedule a free CoolSculpting consultation, your treatment specialist can help determine how many applicators you will need and how many treatments are required to get optimal results.

COOLSCULPTING LOVE HANDLES

The flanks, more commonly known as love handles, are regularly CoolSculpted. For most, this is an area that notoriously holds on to extra fat. If you want to get a total midsection transformation, CoolSculpt the flanks and abdomen together. Minor treatment areas require treatments on each side.

COOLSCULPTING THIGHS

For people struggling with inner and outer thigh fat bulges, CoolSculpting makes applicators to treat the thighs. The CoolFit has a more extended cooling plate to target the vertical fat deposits of the inner thighs. The CoolSmooth applicator is flat, requiring no suction, allowing it to treat the outer thigh area easily.

COOLSCULPTING DOUBLE CHIN

If you struggle with a turkey neck or double chin, the CoolMini is the CoolSculpting applicator for you! This small applicator was made to treat small areas of fat like the double chin and neck fat. The applicator is also great for the armpit area.

COOLSCULPTING UPPER ARMS

The upper arm region is a popular CoolSculpting treatment area for middle-aged women. However, it is ideal for any person who suffers from fatty upper arms. Freezing the upper arm fat is possible with the CoolPine applicator. Treating the upper arm area is relatively new in the CoolSculpting treatment areas. The FDA's approval of this treatment allows your specialist to target the upper arm's stubborn fat cells.
