What is Botox?

Botox is the most popular, non-invasive anti-aging treatment resulting in patients looking ~~drastically~~ younger and more rejuvenated. Botox and similar neuromodulators like Xeomin consist of natural, purified protein known as the Botulinum toxin. Botox focuses on the dynamic wrinkles that form around the brows, forehead, and eyes.

How Does Botox Work?

To understand how Botox works, it is essential to understand what dynamic wrinkles are and how they form. Dynamic wrinkles, or expression lines, results after years of repetitive muscle contractions. When you smile, frown, laugh, or squint, your expression muscles contract and relax. This process causes pulling, folding, and releasing of the skin that lies above the muscle. As you age, collagen and elastin start to break down. The repetitive muscle contractions begin to take a toll on the skin, leaving permanent creases or dynamic wrinkles. This type of wrinkles is particularly prominent in areas we are the most expressive around the face, like the eyes and brows.

Botox smooths out and softens dynamic wrinkles by temporarily relaxing the underlying muscles that cause expression lines. Your cosmetic specialist injects a small amount of Botox directly into the muscles below the wrinkle or fine line during your treatment. The neuromodulator temporarily blocks the signals telling the muscle to contract. This allows the muscle to relax and lengthen, releasing the skin and smoothing out the wrinkle.
