What is CoolSculpting?

If you are wondering, "what is CoolSculpting" we have the answer! This fat freezing treatment is a revolutionary way to eliminate stubborn fat cells for men and women. Using cooling technology, CoolSculpting targets the fat cells that commonly resist diet and exercise. It is FDA cleared for providing a safe, non-invasive way to reduce fat. The best part? Treatments are painless and require little to no recovery time.

What is CoolSculpting Used For?

- Reduces fat cells safely
- Non-invasive
- No downtime needed
- A non-surgical alternative to lipo
- Target trouble areas such as belly fat, thigh fat, double chin and more
- Natural-looking and long-lasting results
- Sculpt lean, firm curves

What is CoolSculpting Treatment?

What is CoolSculpting treatment? Men and women want to know the answer before they undergo this body contouring procedure. Each treatment is only 35 minutes. Your trained technician will use a proprietary applicator on the approved target areas. The applicators isolate the fat bulges in the target area you select. Most choose regions that are notorious for holding on to stubborn fat like the lower abdomen.

Your technician will apply the applicator to the specific zone, sending consistent cooling beneath your skin to the fat cells. The cooling process causes the fat cells to freeze and eventually die. Once the fat cells are dead, they no longer function and process out of the body. Those cells never re-expand or regrow. Once they leave the body, they never return.
