How Does CoolSculpting Work?

CoolSculpting employs a sophisticated cooling technology known as "Cryolipolysis." The core concept of cryolipolysis is freezing fat cells at a higher temperature than other tissue cells. CoolSculpting machines delivered a consistent cooling to the selected treatment area, freezing the cells. At the same time, the surrounding tissue and blood vessels remain unharmed. This treatment will cold sculpt and destroy around 20-25% of the fat cells in the treatment area.¹ The body then breaks down the dead cells and flushes out of the body as waste. Once the fat cells are removed from the body, they can never regrow or re-expand. This fat freezing treatment offers long-lasting results, thanks to Cryolipolysis.

CoolSculpting Treatment Areas

- Belly fat
- Love handles
- Inner and outer thighs
- Back fat
- Armpit fat or "bra bulge"
- Upper arms
- Double chin, neck, and jowls
