How Does CoolSculpting Work?

CoolSculpting works by utilizing an advanced freezing technology known as Cryolipolysis. This technology targets and eliminates fat cells that are typically diet and exercise-resistant. CoolSculpting targets the unwanted fat bulges and exposes them to extreme cooling temperatures. Once the fat cells freeze, they die and process out of the body as waste. After they process out of the body, the fat cells will never return, which is how this revolutionary treatment offers long-lasting results.
