HOW DOES COOLSCULPTING WORK?

CoolSculpting utilizes a process called Cryolipolysis. ("Cryo" = cold + "lipo" = fat cells + "lysis" = cell death and removal.) During treatment, difficult fat deposits are subjected to controlled cooling.

The controlled cooling safely penetrates the skin. Subcutaneous fat cells freeze and then rupture. The ruptured fat cells prepare for apoptosis – cell death and removal.

Over 8 to 16 weeks, the body's immune system gathers the destroyed fat cells. Frozen fat cells then exit the body as waste. These fat cells do not grow back for long-lasting results.

COOLSCULPTING REVIEWS

Reviews of the fat freezing procedure depict continual enthusiasm. Patient testimonials and academic literature is overflowing with scientific analysis, demonstrating clinical data from scientists.

A survey of CoolSculpting data found, "Cryolipolysis was shown to reduce subcutaneous fat at the treatment site by 25% after one treatment."¹

Another review recounts data on treatment perception and satisfaction of 500 plus patients. The study published the findings in Clinical Cosmetic and Investigational Dermatology. The study states, "86% of patients noted "visible reductions" in fat from the abdomen, back and flanks. It also found 82% of patients would recommend the cryolipolysis procedure to a friend."²

IS COOLSCULPTING PERMANENT?

An important question men and women ask before investing in the fat freezing procedure is – does it last? Scientific reviews substantiate long-term results. One longitudinal study followed Cryolipolysis patients over nine years. Researchers noted, "local reductions in fat [after a single CoolSculpting treatment] have significant longevity... suggest[ing] results from Cryolipolysis may be very long-lasting."³

TREATMENT AREAS

Freezing fat reduces almost any stubborn bulge that adheres to the body. Terrell Clinic & Aesthetics is equipped with the latest line of applicators that target problem areas from the chin down to fat above the knees and most any fat deposits in between.

The most popular bulges to tackle include:

- belly fat
- back fat
- bra bulge
- fat below the buttocks
- double chins
- love handles and hips
- upper arm fat

SAFETY AND SIDE AFFECTS*

CoolSculpting is an effective, safe, and FDA cleared body-contouring procedure. This fat freezing process requires little to no down time, unlike surgical Liposuction. The Cryolipolysis process has a high safety protocol. Side effects are rare. Some patients may experience mild redness, bruising, or swelling in the treatment area. These symptoms stem from an immune response as the immune system collects and removes the frozen cells from the body. These mild symptoms are temporary. They should disappear within a week or two following the fat freezing procedure.

COOLSCULPTING RESULTS

CoolSculpting results in a natural-looking and long-lasting reduction in fat. As with all body contouring procedures, individual results may vary. * However, most patients start to see reductions in fat within 8 to 16 weeks after the procedure.²

Fat freezing results are evident after one treatment.¹ Nevertheless, most patients select additional treatments for optimal results.
