microneedling procedure, the needles penetrate vertically into the skin.

Dermaroller vs. Micropen

Hands down, Microneedling pens or devices provide better technology and deliver better results. This is why most medical spas no longer use dermarollers. Nowadays, dermarollers are used mainly for DIY Microneedling, or Microneedling at home.

to user error and injury, especially when Microneedling from home.

Microneedling pens are more versatile. Dermarollers are big and bulky. They cannot reach delicate areas on the face. In contrast, the Microneedling pen is thin and compact. It can easily reach the areas around the eyes, lips, and nose.

Microneedling pens aid the technician with advanced technology. This technology permits precise calibration of the machine, the size of needle used, and the needle depth. With this customization, patients receive tailored treatments, perfectly curated for their face and aesthetic goals.

Dermarollers are cheaper. Perhaps the only advantage dermarollers have over Microneedling pens is the price. Dermarollers can be purchased over the internet for DIY Microneedling. However, as with most cosmetic devices and technologies, you get what you pay for. That is why these microneedling rollers are their enemy.
